

MAN OF MANY FACES

The more he speaks, the more people observe the many persona's of Barack Obama.

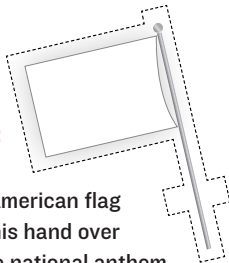

ISLAMOBAMA

E-mails widely circulated on the Internet led many to believe Obama, who spent four years of his childhood in the Muslim country of Indonesia and whose biological father was a Muslim, is secretly Muslim himself. The rumor started anew when a member of Hillary Clinton's presidential campaign released a photo of him in traditional Somali attire.

GQ OBAMA

The fashion editors of Vogue magazine were so excited by Obama's trim figure and megawatt smile they put him on the cover of their men's magazine.

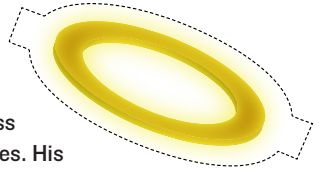

UNPATRIOTIC OBAMA

He won't wear an American flag pin and didn't put his hand over his heart during the national anthem at a campaign event in Iowa. Criticisms about his lack of patriotism increased when his wife, referring to her husband's candidacy, said, "For the first time in my adult lifetime, I'm proud of my country."

OBAMAMESSIAH

Obama's followers, awestruck by his mere presence, scream, cry and sometimes even pass out at his campaign rallies. His inspirational message of hope is backed by the kind of soaring rhetoric that would rival any mega-church sermon.

OBAMBI

Obama's reluctance to "go negative" on Hillary Clinton during the Democratic primaries led political analysts to wonder how McCain (or Hillary, for that matter) could learn to "fight nice" against Obama.

ELITIST BARRY OBAMA

The product of an exotic Hawaiian and Indonesian upbringing, Obama went on to earn a Columbia undergraduate degree and became president of the Harvard Law Review. Then, he embarked on a Cinderella-story political career, jumping from the Illinois State Senate to the U.S. Senate in less than 10 years. Now, he is courting the wine-drinking wing of the Democratic Party as a presidential candidate.
